This international Standard specifies the mounting and connecting dimensions for spin-on fuel filters, with and without an inner sealing, to be used with diesel (compression-ignition) engines. The preferred design of spin-on fuel filters are those without an inner sealing, and they are specified in clause 2. The alternative filter design is specified in annex A and should be used if an inner sealing is required. The corresponding filter heads are specified in ISO 7310, ISO 7311 and ISO 7577 (see annex B). This title may contain less than 24 pages of technical content.
