Coprocessamento e a Contaminação Ambiental: Perspectivas Para a Saúde Ambiental (Portuguese Edition) Felipe Oliveira dos Santos

A geração de resíduos representa um dos maiores desafios para as sociedades contemporâneas. O crescimento populacional e o constante desenvolvimento das indústrias obrigam a busca de soluções para o manejo adequado dos mesmos. Um grande problema ambiental e social que ocorre hoje no Brasil e em todo o mundo é a destinação destes resíduos oriundos das mais variadas atividades. A fabricação de cimento é uma atividade que apresenta elevado potencial de impacto, visto que em todas as etapas de fabricação há emissão de poluentes ao meio ambiente. Em algumas regiões, a confluência de fábricas propicia o aparecimento de polos cimenteiros, como acontece no Município de Cantagalo, Rio de Janeiro. Com o mundo caminhando para uma visão cada vez mais multidisciplinar, existe a necessidade de gerar conhecimentos que se intercomunique entre as diferentes partes envolvidas, fomentando discussões e direcionando ações. Sabe-se que o acesso pleno às informações pode contribuir para se avaliar a dimensão e a importância dos bens naturais, sociais e culturais disponíveis e, ao mesmo tempo, proporcionar respostas que, de alguma forma, resultem na preservação e no equilíbrio do meio ambiente, evitando um efeito devastador e irreversível para a qualidade de vida das populações expostas aos impactos ambientais por cimenteiras.
